

Printing from ProQuest

When you first go in to a book it will tell you how many pages are available to be printed.

You will only be able to print up to the number of pages mentioned. This is a restriction related to the copyright law which only allows a certain portion of a book to be copied.

If you wish to print pages from a chapter then click on a particular chapter from the list of contents further down the screen:

Once this page comes up you need to click on the print to PDF icon:

You will be asked to choose a loan length – please just click on “Check out ebook”.

Cancel Continue

Fill in the page numbers or click current chapter and then press “Continue”.

You will then see a brief message saying “Creating PDF” and then you should get this:

Home Search Boo

PRINT TO PDF ✕

Open PDF

Click on “Open PDF” and a PDF will open with the pages that you have chosen and you can then print them out from it.
